

CWFF-What does it mean to you???

The Canadian World Friendship Fund (CWFF) was originally started with money raised by Canadian Girl Guides to help children affected by World War Two. Today, CWFF funds are used in a variety of ways-from supporting International Guiding members attending our Canadian events such as SOAR to disaster relief for other WAGGGS countries such as the Japanese Tsunami. We also contribute to the day to day operations of the World Centres so Guiding members around the world can visit them.

As you can imagine, these funds are very important and a huge part of our Guiding history and the girl's program. So how can your unit get involved??

The Nova Scotia International Adviser is challenging all units, to see who can raise the most money per unit member, including Guiders. The winning unit will receive up to $100.00 to be used for a pizza party!!! The winner will be notified via email on April 1st, 2019 so start planning your CWFF campaign.

Looking for ideas to spark some interest with your girls? Why not host an International night for parents and charge a small fee, or use nickels to create art (outline a trefoil, or a toadstool). How about using it as a STEM experiment, check out this link for a cool experiment:

https://www.exploratorium.edu/science_explorer/card_bridge.html the possibilities are endless.

No time to waste! Start planning now, who knows, you could be the winner of a fun, pizza outing, courtesy of your Provincial International Advisory. Only open to Nova Scotia members. Remember to use social media during your fundraising and use the hashtag: #nscwffchallenge
